

CHEER NEWS!

Big Business Men Now See Only Rosy Outlook.

Harding, Farrell, Redfield, Hurley Quoted

CLEVELAND — (By United Press) — Better times are coming. The unemployment situation soon will solve itself. Slightly lower prices in commodities will prevail. There is no financial trouble ahead. Our big problem is foreign trade. These were views expressed today by leading business men and financiers attending the National Foreign Trade Council convention here. Among these were, W. P. G. Harding, governor of the federal reserve board, James A. Farrell, head of the U. S. Steel Corporation; William C. Redfield, former secretary of commerce, and Edward A. Hurley.

WHY HARDING SAYS
There is now no danger of any general financial trouble in this country. The time has come for renewed courage and confidence.

We are now on the threshold of the productive season. There is no point in forcing liquidation further and producers should be encouraged to build themselves up.

We are reaching every day a safer basis on which to do business. Prices of certain products which are depressed below cost, below prewar basis and below the ten-year average will each in time meet their own or they will adjust themselves.

The present mal-adjustment is only temporary. The economy forces are seeking to reconcile themselves and they will do so.

WHAT FARRELL SAYS
But of our problems, clearly, is that of the difficulties encountered in the operation of our machinery in handling foreign trade. We have received a great object lesson in the fact that no nation can long carry on with success an unbalanced foreign trade.

Whether the proportion be on the side of imports or exports, as one result, we have seen the American dollar in the currency of the world, with the result of a sequence of depression on the part of absolute stagnation.

We have the capacity to produce. We have the raw materials. We have the labor. Other countries need our products, but lack the capacity to purchase under present conditions.

REALLY OPTIMISTIC
In an interview with the United Press today, Hurley, expressed optimism regarding the future.

He holds the belief that business conditions will steadily improve from now on.

I am optimistic as to the future," he said.

We have many foreign and domestic problems which affect the future, and they seem to be working out now than they did a few years ago on account of the period of prosperity which we have had.

However, I firmly believe that there is no "hard times" coming. The "soft times" are going.

Harding believes that any business which this year does 65 per cent of the business it did last year should consider itself as having had a normal business for 1921.

Evolution of foreign trade was advocated by Redfield as a remedy for unemployment and business depression. This would mean according to Redfield, the immediate opening of many of our industries on a full-time basis.

"We are just now beginning to see the end of unemployment and business depression," said Redfield. He believes that there will be a steady improvement from now on.

"Prices generally have not reached their lowest level," he said.

"Or course, it is true that some commodities have hit rock bottom and the majority of them still could go a little lower."

WASHINGTON — The house passed the budget bill by a vote of 244 to 9.

'DEAR HONEY' LETTER DISOWNED

BEAUVAIS DENIES STILLMAN NOTE

Never Used Such Terms to Ex Bankers Wife, He Says

GUIDE CHARGES FORGERY

Declares the Document Doctored by Some One

(By JAMES R. KELLY)

MONTREAL—"Where the devil did they get that?" Fred Beauvais exclaimed today, when shown a copy of the alleged "dear honey" letter, which he is charged with writing to Mrs. James A. Stillman.

Beauvais' face turned scarlet with anger, as he read the alleged letter and was informed by the United Press correspondent that it had been published in New York as having been used in the Stillman divorce case.

"I never addressed Mrs. Stillman in such terms," the alleged correspondent asserted, after a moment. "Some one has doctored a letter of mine, but this writing is not mine. They have made a great love letter write out of me."

"Some one will pay for this," Beauvais said.

"So much money is being spent on this case that one can expect almost anything."

GIFTS DENIED
He denied passages of the letter which represented him as having sent gifts to Guy Stillman, the child whose father he is alleged to be.

"I sent all the articles mentioned in the letter," he was ordered to say, as an employee of the Stillmans, he asserted.

All his stoicism vanished when he came to that portion of the letter in which he was made to refer to the joys of parenthood. His face became pale with rage. He appeared no longer able to restrain himself.

"I deny all those statements," he cried, hoarse with emotion. "I wish I could go to New York. I would tell them the truth," he declared.

"Well, why don't you go?" the correspondent asked.

"I haven't been asked," Beauvais retorted. "At present, I can't spare the time from my business. But this is getting serious and I may go yet. Up to the present, there has been no evidence introduced that the defense can't refute."

"My brother Arthur will tell them the truth and they won't be able to shake his story."

GREATLY EXERCISED
Beauvais was greatly exercised over stories reported to have been told by witnesses from Grand Avenue at the hearing in New York, as reported in newspapers which he had seen.

"George Adams, who is quoted as having said he saw me in Mrs. Stillman's room with her, was not on the Stillman farm at the time he testified he peeked thru a hole in the curtain," Beauvais declared.

"Adams was there only when I was alone with my own father, mother and brothers," the Stillmans were in New York at that time."

Beauvais said that the east 72nd address given on the letterhead of the letter as published, was not correct.

"In 1919," he said, "the Stillman family was living at 270 Park-ave, and moved from the 72nd-st Stillman, the elder. That was in spring of 1918. The family and I went to Quebec for the summer and returned to New York in the fall, taking up residence in the Park-ave house."

After reading the Stillman letter, Beauvais rushed from his office to consult an attorney.

"I am going to see if I have any rights in this case," he exclaimed.

OHIO TROOPS MAY BE CALLED OUT

Ordered in Readiness for N. O. T. Strike Duty

AKRON — (By Associated Press)

Police authorities in three cities on the Northern Ohio Traction and Light Company traction system, today preparing for emergencies today with the announcement by traction officials that an attempt would probably be made Sunday to operate cars as the first step towards ending the strike of 1,100 platform men.

UNION THREAT

Announcement of the company's intention was met with the threat of union leaders that no cars would be permitted to leave the barns. Pickets were stationed at the car barns in Kenmore, this city, Silver Lake Junction, an interurban point; Canton and Massillon. Orders were issued to the pickets to notify union headquarters immediately of any attempt to take trolleys from the barns.

City and county authorities here, as well as in Canton, have completed their plans for emergency service in case of trouble. Home guards and special deputies have been notified to hold themselves in readiness for duty.

AUTHORITIES FIRM

Public authorities here declare that the cars will be run regardless of the strikers and that order will be preserved and that Akron would use all its resources to co-operate and to have service resumed.

A. C. Blinn, vice president of the Northern Ohio Traction Company announced this morning that the company would begin to pay off the street car men today and that all will be paid their wages by tomorrow noon. This is forecasted to mean that the company will re-employ only those strikers that have been remaining loyal to the company and who refused to vote for the walkout.

MAYOR REFUSES TO NAME SCHOOL PROBERS

COVINGTON, Ky. — Mayor Thomas F. Donnelly declined today to appoint a committee of citizens to investigate Covington high school, as requested in a letter by Ben Burman, history teacher. Burman said his contract had not been renewed because he had been accused of teaching Bolshevism and socialism, although he was a wounded veteran of Chateau Thierry.

Donnelly said the board of education is independent of city commissioners and is supreme in government of schools.

WARSHIPS MOVE ON GERMANY

British Navy Lined up Ready to Strike

BERLIN CHIEFS HAVE DIVIDED

Allied Invitation to U. S. Before Cabinet

LONDON — (By United Press) — Britain's battle squadrons were ready for action today against Germany.

Preliminaries went ahead with the usual secrecy. Preliminary plans of the admiralty were cloaked in mystery.

It was understood the fleet would contribute to a naval demonstration at German ports, but that no blockade would be attempted.

Mobilization of the fighting ships for such a maneuver could be conducted quickly and probably without publicity.

British officials were keenly interested today in America's reception of the allied note, inviting her to participate in the ambassadors' conference, the reparations commission and the supreme council.

The note was a simple and direct invitation. It pointed out that the entente unanimously wishes America to reenter allied affairs and that it appreciates the material and diplomatic assistance of the last two weeks.

The message said that America could accomplish great good by assuming leadership in the reparations commission which will supersede Germany's payment of her debt.

GERMANS DIVIDED

BERLIN — (By Associated Press) — The German Socialists today are stubbornly opposed to participating in the formation of a cabinet containing representatives of the German People's party, and it is believed that the Social Democratic party, headed by Philipp Scheidemann, former chancellor, has definitely rejected an invitation to join a coalition ministry.

President Ebert has held the conferences with relictstag leaders belonging to the present coalition and the majority Socialist party, but has not succeeded in untangling the cabinet crisis precipitated by the sudden resignation of the Fehrenbach ministry on Wednesday night.

Former Chancellor Hermann Mueller and Otto Weis have represented the majority Socialists at these conferences.

Dr. Gustav Stresemann, leader of the German People's party, is prominently mentioned as chancellor or foreign minister in the new cabinet.

Belief also exists that several members of the Fehrenbach government will be returned to ministerial posts.

President Ebert resumed negotiations with party leaders today.

AMERICAN POSITION

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — The invitation of the allied governments for the United States to be represented on the supreme council, the reparations commission and the council of ambassadors was expected to be discussed at the regular cabinet meeting today.

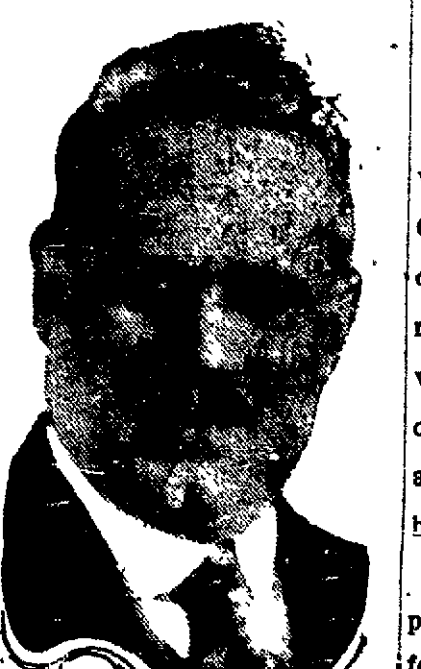

Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, presented the invitation at the state department yesterday and soon afterward Secretary Hughes went into conference with President Harding for half an hour.

No official comment was made upon the subject of discussion, but it was said that the proposal was being considered by the president.

In the absence of any intimation of what position the American government will take in the matter, it was believed that any direct participation of the United States in European affairs would be confined to reparations and other economic settlements or, if a broader course was decided upon, it would be only after complete agreement was reached on mandates and other questions involving the United States.

LONGER HOURS FOR DRINKING ASKED

Liquor Men Demand Lifting of Government Control

LONDON — (By Associated Press)

—Relaxation from the present regulation of the liquor traffic is provided in the new licensing bill before parliament. The act, which lengthens the hours during which public houses may remain open and grants certain other concessions, is said also to represent an effort on the part of the trade itself to reform.

This tendency of the liquor interests is pointed to by prohibitionists as an effort to appease the moderate temperance elements and to forestall threatened attempts of reformers to bring about a brand of prohibition as severe as that in the United States.

LONGER HOURS
New features of the measure would impose heavier fines for drunkenness, with imprisonment on the third offense; would permit saloons to remain open from nine to eleven hours a day, instead of the present six and a half hours, and would allow adults to take children into parts of public houses not used chiefly as open-drinking bars. Other proposals would make possible "greater freedom for rational enjoyment with special reference to music, dancing and games."

Colonel Gratton, the father of the present bill, who is a brewer, introduced a similar measure at the last session of parliament, but it was smothered in a mass of other legislation.

ATTACKED BY DRYS
Premier Lloyd-George has been questioned again and again in the house of commons as to when relief from the present liquor control might be expected. He has consistently replied that the government was giving the matter its closest attention. Spokesmen for the liquor interests have intimated that Mr. Lloyd-George because of his reputed "dry" propensities, is not in a hurry to abolish the present system of control.

The bill is being attacked by temperance people because it comes from the brewery interest because of letting children into bars where they will learn to drink and because of the longer hours.

Commissioners to Invade Columbus Next Week to Hold Highway Commission to Promise to Return All or Part of $209,000 Federal Road Fund Withdrawn

Failure of County to Cooperate with Highway Office Given by G. F. Rudisill as Reason for Loss of Money, —Other Counties Similarly Affected

Members of the board of commissioners of Allen-co next week will invade Columbus and the department of State Highway Commissioner Leon Herrick for the purpose of putting up a last desperate fight for the return of $209,000 federal aid for good roads in this county, afforded by the national government and withdrawn peremptorily by the state highway commission because of failure of county commissioners to present blueprints and specifications of proposed Allen-co road work to the state highway commissioner.

That is the reason why this county lost two-thirds of an appropriation of more than $300,000 from the national government, for good roads, according to G. F. Rudisill, a director of the Ohio Good Roads Federation, speaking before the Good Roads committee of the Chamber of Commerce, at the Lima Club. Rudisill urged that the good roads committee expand their scope and reorganize as the Allen-co Roads Council.

"I have not the slightest idea whether we will be able to regain the federal aid fund ordered taken away from us six weeks ago without notice, or whether the promise made a few weeks ago will be repeated," County Commissioner Walter W. Craig said Friday, "but we are going after the money and we mean business."

RETURN OF ALL OR PART OF FUND PROMISED BY HERRICK RECENTLY

Other counties in the state were accorded similar treatment by the highway commission, but in some instances, Van Wert-co notably, part of the fund was returned. A few weeks ago a party of good roads boosters from Allen-co called on the state highway commissioner and a promise was given that part, if not all, of the federal aid fund would be restored. Since that time nothing has been done.

Allen-co roads, in many places, are in a deplorable condition and funds are badly needed for improvements planned. Loss of more than two-thirds of the federal aid accorded has hampered the work of the commissioners, they say. The policy of the highway commission is to have the money granted by the national government used in the construction of main highways, in accordance with the wishes and under the direction of that body. Commissioners and good roads men feel that the charge of failure of this county to cooperate with the state highway commission last year is a flimsy excuse for the action of the state road body in withdrawing funds so badly needed.

"We are going to fight for money for Allen-co roads," Craig said, "and intend to leave nothing undone to secure funds needed. Nothing short of a return of all or at least the greater portion of the federal aid will satisfy."

DANCING DOLLIES CAUSE ARREST OF THREE

LORAIN — (By United Press) — Alleged portrayal by "six dainty, dancing dollies," according to the police report, of vulgar dances before an audience of 500 men here resulted in the arrest of three men charged with giving a "private exhibition of a lascivious, indecent, immoral and impure nature and such as to corrupt the morals of those attending the exhibition."

The three men, all of whom pleaded not guilty when arraigned in criminal court here, have been held for trial May 11, and bond fixed at $500 each.

Police say that the "six dainty, dancing dollies"—It says just that on the police blotter—hopped into an arena and cavorted unrestrained before the audience. The girls began portrayals of the "flinger" and "seven veil" dances, but according to reports the girls became cumbersome and somewhat hampered the dancing. So, police declare, the girls discarded the veils.

The "dancing dollies," who participated in the show were hurried away after the performance, police claim.

Men prominent in Lorain's business, industrial, civic and social life, were in the audience, police say, and they claim to have the names of everyone who attended the exhibition.

STRIKE OF JOB PRINTERS SETTLED, WAGES REDUCED

CHICAGO — Job printers returned to work here today following the settlement of their strike for a 44-hour week. They accepted the ruling of the arbitrator agreed upon, which gave them a 44-hour week, but reduced their wages $4.35 a week.

The strike was of short duration. Two hundred and fifty plants were affected.

DEMOCRATS BUSY

Plenty of Good Shooting Ahead, Chairman White Says

COLUMBUS — (By United Press) — Senator "Pat" Harrison's attack upon the appointment of Colonel George Harvey, as ambassador to Great Britain, made recently in the United States senate, was planned as a conference of Democratic leaders, George White, of Marietta, chairman of the national Democratic committee, disclosed here today.

"We are doing business in Washington at last," White said, "and map out our program at conferences with Democratic leaders in congress. Senator Harrison's attack upon Harvey was the result of one of the first of these conferences."

"We expect to keep 'shooting' when the occasion presents," he added, "and it looks now as if there would be plenty of good shooting in the next few years."

CLEVELAND — The scheduled two weeks' running race meet at the Chagrin Falls track, has been abandoned, officials announced.

SENATE FINANCE BODY IS HERE

Ohio Solons Visit Lima State Hospital, Friday

Seven members of the Ohio Senate finance committee arrived in Lima Friday noon for the purpose of making an inspection of a tract of land at the State Hospital. Most of the members were accompanied by their wives and the entire party took lunch at the Lima Club.

During the afternoon Friday they made a trip out to Collins and St. Marys to inspect the reservoir and return to Lima in the evening. The party will make their headquarters at the Norval while in Lima.

After leaving here the committee will inspect the Hayes Memorial at Fremont and visit Sandusky to inspect the burning of a cottage on May 1. The loss is approximately $50,000. The ash battery at Put-in-Bay will also be visited during the tour.

The visit to the Lima State hospital may result in the institution getting an extra appropriation. It is believed. The appropriation is for work cut in half by the legislature during the last session, leaving the institution insufficient funds to carry out the improvements planned by Dr. Charles H. Clark.

Included in the visiting party are: Senator W. M. Miller, chairman, and Mrs. Miller; J. F. Atwood and wife; Columbus, Captain and Mrs. Tom W. Jones, Middleport; G. O. Pence and wife of Hillsboro; W. E. Sparks, Dayton; J. F. Burke, Ellettsburg; J. E. Whittemore and wife, Akron. Others in the party are: Sergeant at Arms and Mrs. J. G. Thompson; Miss Anna Brady, photographer; Frank P. Edson, Van Wert, in charge of the routing and Charles J. Laney, Akron, traffic manager Northern Ohio traction company. The party is using a private electric car on the trip.

Servitor, or Captain Tom Jones, as he prefers to be designated, is known to many in Lima. Division veterans in Lima. He was elected to the senate originally while serving in France, with the A. E. F.

TEACHERS APPOINTED FOR PERRY-TP SCHOOLS

Teachers for the coming year have been employed by the Auglaize rural school board. Only the teachers for the Harrod consolidated school were named as the other school, a one room building may be closed and the children brought to Harrod. R. W. Coterman was re-elected principal at a salary of $1,600 a year. Helen Todd was named high school teacher at $1,100 a year. O. H. Foltz was placed in charge of the seventh and eighth grades at a salary of $1,100. The fifth and sixth grades were assigned to Fannie Eacker, the third and fourth to Goldie Corlett and the primary classes to Neva Thomas. These last three teachers will receive $900 a year.

Members of the school board are: G. E. Foltz, president; John Grubb, William Smith, Craig Parlette, and Guy Speer. Last year an additional three mill levy was voted by the electors and the school bonds were exempted from the action of the Smith law. As a result finances are in a very favorable condition.

AGAIN IN TOILS

Raymond Fry Taken Second Time on Forgery Charge

For the second time within two months, Raymond Fry, 17, of 725 N. Jefferson-st., is being held at city prison charged with forgery.

March 15 Fry was arrested for passing a worthless check on Joe Werner. He was turned over to juvenile court who released him on probation.

The check was made out to him self this time, police say and was for $6.75. He attempted to cash it at the Western grocery, it is alleged.

Guinness of the check was suspicious and police were notified.

"SHOOT" IS ORDER TO MAIL MEN

Colt's Revolvers Ordered—$5,000 For Bandit Capture

A reward of $5,000 awaits any employee of Uncle Sam in the postal service in Lima who captures a mail bandit, dead or alive.

Shipments of arms and ammunition are being sent to post offices in the large cities of the United States, by the postal department in Washington, to arm divisions of mail wagons and others who transport valuable mail matter.

Cincinnati and Columbus offices were notified Friday that guns and shells have been shipped to those points. Notice is given that a reward of $5,000 will be paid for the capture of post office bandits, "dead or alive," it is added significantly.

An order has been placed by Postmaster J. E. Sullivan of the Lima postoffice for a supply of 45 Colt revolvers, sufficient for the local force, with ammunition, but he has not been notified of the shipment of the light artillery.

Instructions to "shoot first and investigate afterwards" are given to drivers of vehicles carrying United States mail and to railway mail clerks. The postal department instructs postmasters to order their band a mail vehicle or postal car, men to shoot any person seeking to

PARMENTER BECOMES NEW SECRETARY OF ROTARY CLUB

Annual inspection of Shawnee commandery, Knights Templar will be held at the lodge rooms May 19. Initiation work will be held during the afternoon, with dinner at 6 p. m. There will also be initiations during the evening. Chas. H. Vogley, Mansfield, will act as inspecting officer.

TRIAL OF PHILLIPS, ON CONTRIBUTING CHARGE, TO BE HELD ON TUESDAY

Hearing of Alva Phillips, 21, soldier, 689 N. Union-st., before Judge J. H. Hamilton, on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Allice Simmons, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Simmons, 442 N. Jackson-st., will be held Tuesday.

Phillips is in the county jail. Judge Hamilton said Friday it was his understanding that Phillips should have departed for Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., Thursday.

Officials believe that this may have induced the girl to leave her home in an endeavor to be near her sweetheart. It is said that when she found he must return to camp, she was heart-broken.

The Simmons girl was returned to Lima, Thursday night by her father, who went to Chicago, after police had made the arrest.

PLAN FIREWORKS AGAIN TONIGHT

Balloon Ascension Friday, Maybe—Kiddies at Elks' Carnival

Fireworks are again on the program for Friday night at the Elks May Festival. The display will start at 7:30, if the weather permits.

Other features will be singing by Margaret Mae Moller, a six year old vocalist and her father, Harry Moller. A number of Elks from Columbus are expected to be present for the evening and special features will be on tap as usual.

Saturday afternoon will be a memorable day for the kiddies from the Childrens Home. Trucks from the Gramm-Bernstein, Garford and the Ohio Steel, together with several private automobiles, will load up the 100 children at 1:30 and bring them to the Elks Home, where royal entertainment is being planned for them.

Candy, ice cream, balloons and toys will be distributed and the ball room will be turned into a theatre and a regular show put on. Harry Moller will do an acrobatic turn and later he and his daughter Margaret Mae will sing with orchestral accompaniment. A number of the Elks' most comic clowns will outdo themselves to give the children one of the best times they ever had.

If the weather is favorable, it is understood a balloon ascension will be staged Friday afternoon at 4:30.

MISSOURIAN HAS NINTH WIFE

Benedict, 78, Reviews His Matrimonial Career

DOESN'T LIKE FLAPPERS

Advises Young Men to Avoid This Kind

(BY KENT MASON)
POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. — (By International News Service)—Weathering many tempests on the sea of matrimony, William L. Tillman, seventy-eight-year-old farmer, has ended his career and now is living peacefully with his ninth wife. The divorce courts of Missouri and North Carolina have thrice favored the aged tiller with their verdicts. Five of the former wives are dead.

"The best way to win a wife," Tillman declares, "is to pay all your attentions to the job of wooing, he with her as much as possible so your rival won't have a chance."

There isn't a woman on earth he couldn't win if he wanted her.

That's his unequivocal assertion regarding affairs de coeur.

"Nothing is impossible in the world of affection. All women are different," the gray-whiskered king of marriages states. "Many women merely want love, not marriage. Most of them love 'love-man stuff.' Many of them want to marry and raise children. By studying the psychology of the woman you want to win, you'll find the love-making methods to which they are most susceptible. They'll all fall if you know how to go after 'em."

KILLED A MAN
So ardent was Tillman's love for one of his former wives that he killed a man who came between him and her. Admitting the killing, for which he is said to have served a short term in prison, Tillman didn't care "to talk about that."

"I paid the penalty, so it makes no difference to anyone now," he declared. "I gave the 'other man' fair warning."

And take it from the love lariat's own assertion that he'll marry again if his present wife ever dies.

"What's the use of staying single?" he queries. "Sure I'd marry again. There's no joke about that. I'd have to have somebody to cut wood for," he chortled.

With his wife, formerly Mrs. Sarah Tume, who now is seventy-six years old, Tillman resides on a farm in Butler-co, several miles from here. He was born October 11, 1842, in North Carolina, served thru the Civil War with the Union forces and was mustered out from Company G, One Hundred and Tenth Illinois Infantry at the close of the struggle between the states.

DIVORCED THREE TIMES
Here is the list of wives with whom he has shared the trials and tribulations, the debates and the vicissitudes of his varied career in the marriage market.

At the age of twenty-three he married Miss Rachel C. Lowry in August, 1865. She died in January, 1875. Eight months later he married Mary M. Canady. After four years of happiness she passed out in January, 1881. Tillman embarked again on the sea of matrimony, this time with Adeline Cavender. She died in 1885.

His first divorce was obtained from his fourth wife, nee Margaret Parker, whom he married in 1886.

Because his fifth wife, originally Mamie Shannon, "couldn't get along with the old couter," he was divorced again in 1903.

Then for seven years he found bliss in the companionship of Mrs. Sophia Higgins, a widow, who died in 1910.

The seventh mate "made life very miserable," and Tillman secured a divorce from her in 1911. She was a widow, Mrs. Harriet Ray, and the mother of several children by her first husband.

Again in 1915, he plunged, this time taking as his mate Mrs. Alice Witt, who died a year later.

HAS NEVER HAD CHILDREN
Tillman missed the story told by other old settlers that he had been the husband of two additional wives not given in the list.

"I wouldn't be ashamed of it if it were true," he asserts. "I think my record does pretty well and I don't want to exaggerate it."

The age of a woman as compared with that of the man to whom she is married has nothing to do with the success of wedded life, declares the sage of nearly a dozen love feasts.

"It all depends on the man," he says. "Young fellows should never marry a flapper if they expect to know wedded bliss. Some wives have to be treated like babies; all of them should be petted. If they are not petted—well, they'll find a way out."

Tillman happens not to be the father of any children.

WENDELL PILLS AMBITION BRAND

Saturday We Begin a Great MAY DRIVE FOR LARGER SALES

To Bring Increased Volume Over All Our Sales Records
We Offer Unheard of Bargains on Every Floor!

Everyone knows that we must sell nearly twice as much actual goods than we did last year to bring in the same amount of dollars and cents. In order to accomplish this result we have been offering our patrons remarkable bargains in wanted merchandise. The results have been increased sales records in almost every department.

Now We are Up Against the Biggest May Record in Our History
And We are Out to Beat that Record this Year--Bargains Will Do It

Watch our advertising every day for we propose to sell the things you need to eat, to wear or to use in the home at prices that in many cases are lower than those of the low price period of 1913 to 1914. Look at these bargains for Saturday. Remember, the cut prices on various items will be advertised from day to day and will be good for one day's selling only, in each instance.

U.S. SAVES DRAFT KNOWS IT CAN BE FINGER PRINTS

Will Be Used in Making Future
Identifications

BUREAU IS ESTABLISHED

Marks to Aid in Running Down
Criminals

(By HARRY L. ROGERS)
WASHINGTON, D. C. (International News Service).—In the identification section of the War Department in old Ford Theatre, where Abraham Lincoln was shot, there has been collected a mass of evidence which is expected during the years to come to play an important part in the conviction of thousands of criminals, and likewise to aid in the exoneration of perhaps other thousands of innocent men who have been convicted of crimes because of the object of suspicion.

The evidence in question is the finger-print records of more than 3,000,000 men whose imprints were taken when they came in contact with the machinery of the selective service organization of the War Department of the war. Scarcely a day passes that the War Department is not called upon by the police of various cities and towns throughout the country to try to identify the finger prints of some one who has been involved in a crime or fatal accident.

HELPED SOLVE WANDERER CASE

A recent inquiry from Chicago in connection with the notorious Carl Wanderer murder case is perhaps typical of the "Ragged Stranger" type of case which has been shot by Lieutenant Wanderer, while the stranger was staging a fake hold-up for which Wanderer had paid him a small sum of money, had never been satisfactorily identified. The police believed him to be Earl Keesee, of Milwaukee, and that he had served in the army either under the name of Keesee or that of Edward Morgan, of Texas.

Knowing that the finger-print records of every man who had served in the army since the identification system was installed were on file with the War Department, they sent the imprints of the "Ragged Stranger" to Washington for comparison.
Investigation showed that a man named Earl Keesee had enlisted in the army from Milwaukee but the finger prints of Keesee were different from those of the "Ragged Stranger." It was found that no less than six Edward Morgans had served in the army and that two of them were from Texas, but the finger prints of the man slain in Chicago did not tally with those of any of the Edward Morgans who had served in the army.

HANDY FOR SHERIFFS

So prolific has the identification section of the army become as a means of capturing criminals, that every now and then the department has to squelch some ambitious sheriff who tries to make the service pay him dividends. The method ordi-

Noted Evangelist Gratefully Gives Endorsement to Nerv-Worth

Rev. J. E. Pennell gave the following statement some time ago, and it offers the most convincing proof of this Medicine's merits.

"I feel I should speak a word of praise for your good nerve remedy, Nerv-Worth," said Rev. Pen-nell, Evangelist, who at the time was residing at 1108 Pine Street, Zanesville, Ohio. "My work as an Evangelist, which keeps me constantly employed, speaking nearly every week night and three or four times on Sunday, is pretty trying on the nerves, and I have suffered from nervous prostration and nervous rheumatism. Some time ago, while suffering terribly from a nervous breakdown, my wife bought me a bottle of Nerv-Worth, and I am glad to say that in one bottle I found relief. I mention this that you may feel safe in recommending the med-

LAKE TRADE NOT PICKING UP

Outlook is Not Very Bright, Report Shows

CLEVELAND.—The outlook in the lake trade is not very bright, and unless there is a decided improvement, a large number of the bulk freighters will not be started in May, says the monthly business review of the Fourth Federal Reserve District.

"The ore trade, which furnishes employment for the bulk of the tonnage is very dull, and the movement for the season will show a big decrease compared with 1920, when the fleet moved 55,272,225 tons," the review continued.

"Some of the shippers say shipments will not exceed 10,000,000 tons, and if that is the top, the picking will be pretty thin for some of the vessels. Prices have not been fixed, and it is expected that the furnace men will be slow in placing orders, when a start is made, as stocks at the Lake Erie ports and furnace yards are pretty heavy.

LAKE Docks ARE.
Ore docks at this end of the route only shipped 320,871 tons of ore in the interior furnaces in March. That was a big decrease compared with March 1920, when the docks sent forward 1,180,972 tons. The bulk of the ore that was shipped from dock during the winter went to furnaces of the United Steel Corporation.

"The steamer Frank Billings loaded the first cargo of the season at Superior, on April 11. The ore was ynted for mixture by an Eastern furnace and was delivered at Buffalo. Only a few cargoes were delivered at this end of the route in April, and there will not be much of a movement until the middle of May. In April, 1920, the fleet loaded 230,854 tons of ore and shipments for May were 4,976,085 tons.

"Chattering in the grain trade has been light and the supply of tonnage in excess of the demand. The rate from the head of Lake Superior to Buffalo opened at three cents, but tonnage came out faster than it was wanted, and as a result the rate was cut and some business was done at two cents.

Coal for early loading is offered freely, but tonnage is scarce."

WATCH GARDEN SLUGS.

WOOSTER.—Garden slugs have increased to a point where they are causing heavy loss, says a bulletin of the Ohio Experiment Station.

Dusting plants with calcium arsenate and Bordeaux powder will act as a repellent, the bulletin said.

COAL OUTPUT BOOMS; OHIO EXCHANGE SAYS

COLUMBUS.—This week's coal report of the Southern Ohio Coal Exchange, covering operations for the week ending April 23, shows the best production of any week this spring. The output of the 354 mines reporting was 106,577 tons, the largest since March 12, when 118,823 tons were mined.

At that, production is only 15 per cent of normal, the full time capacity of the mines being 636,863 tons. No market for fuel resulted in a loss of 498,176 tons of the 520,288 tons lost.

How to Banish Piles

Thousands Bless Dr. Leonhardt, the Physician Who Discovered a Common Sense Remedy.

If you think that the surgeon's knife is the only method of escape from the misery of piles, it's because you haven't heard of the new treatment known as Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID.

The Doctor's treatment is internal. By experimenting for years he discovered the exact cause of piles and then went further and compounded a remedy that would remove the cause.

Dr. Leonhardt wants every sufferer to benefit by his discovery and so that there will be no doubting or delay Thompson's A Drug Stores and all druggists are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee that it will do as stated or money back.

On that honorable basis every sufferer should secure a package of Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID today.—Adv.

You Will See the New Fabrics in Our Windows—But

YOU want to see the style of the new spring models just arrived.

You want to see the way these all-wool fabrics are cut—the new low waist, the beautifully tailored sleeves that fit the arm stylishly from the wrist to the shoulder, the smart lines of the waistcoat, and the hip-fit to the trousers.

You want to stand in front of a mirror and notice the way the cloth in the sleeve folds when you bend your arm, the way the back of the coat drapes when you reach out. You want to put your hands in the new low side pockets. All these little things are what make style.

Tailoring by hand, with conscientious care, is what does it.

ANTI TRUST LAW REPEAL ASKED

Included in American Federation of Labor Program

OUTLINED AT CINCINNATI

Fight Against Court Injunctions Also Planned

CINCINNATI — (By Associated Press) — The principles and program which the organized labor forces of the United States will be asked to support and uphold during the next year were being drafted here today by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor.

This declaration, when completed, will be incorporated in the council's annual report and be presented to the annual convention of the federation to be held in June at Denver.

While the council's program is tentative, it was unofficially stated that the fight against the "open shop" and the fight against the "closed shop" will be asked to continue. The fight against the "open shop" is the fight against the law which permits employers to hire non-union men to work on their plants. The fight against the "closed shop" is the fight against the law which permits employers to hire only union men to work on their plants.

FOREIGN TIES SEVERED

The council also will officially notify the convention of the severance of relations with the International Federation of Trade Unions because of the European organization's radical tendencies.

The council, it was learned today, is going to give consideration to the question of wage reductions and the cost of living. Labor officials said that the council takes the position that a widespread attempt is being made to reduce wages while retail prices are maintained at a much higher standard than the situation justifies.

Reports received by the council today showed that more than 4,000,000 persons are without employment in the country and the situation is showing no improvement.

William Green, secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, said that 150,000 miners are out of work and that 300,000 are working from one to three days a week. Practically none of our men have steady employment," he added. "There is no market for coal, the mines are shut down."

"Many of our people are suffering. They would have starvation if they took a wage reduction for that would not increase their opportunity for work."

BROUGHT UNDER FIRE

The executive committee was brought under fire today by the local advocates of the "open shop" movement. L. H. Vanmatre, secretary of the Industrial division of the Chamber of Commerce, issued a statement attacking the closed union shop as a restriction upon a worker's ability and opportunity by its dead-level standard.

He also said that the "closed shop" discriminates and interferes with a man's opportunity of earning a livelihood. More than a thousand concerns here, Mr. Vanmatre declared, have declared for the "open shop."

"Let them go ahead," said President Samuel Gompers. "They cannot injure the American Labor movement. We have weathered the storms of the past and are not even annoyed by such squalls as these."

"They are only fooling themselves," said Matthew Wolf, vice president of the federation. "Employers sooner or later will learn the truth and be glad to co-operate with organized labor."

Y. W. C. A. MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN IS INAUGURATED

Mrs. Julia Simpson, employment and rooms registry secretary at the Y. W. C. A., gave a short address at the meeting. Foreign Missionary society of Trinity M. E. church Wednesday and at the W. C. T. U. meeting at the U. B. church Thursday for the purpose of renewing old membership to the Y. W. C. A. and to receive new ones. Similar talks will be given by the members of the membership committee of the Y. W. C. A. at the various church organization meetings.

Mrs. Mary Garford, physical director at the Y. W. C. A., is in charge of the walk which the Y. W. girls will begin Sunday afternoon. At each gathering a book will be read and discussed. "Gift of Leadership" by Abbie Graham being the subject of the book for this coming Sunday.

All are requested to meet in the Y. W. C. A. rooms, Morris Arcade at 2:30 p. m. The destination of the walk is a secret.

All girls of the city are extended a cordial invitation to attend these enjoyable gatherings.

MAKING DRIVE FOR K. C. CLASS FOR MAY 22 WORK

A drive for candidates for initiation is being made by the Knights of Columbus in a campaign started April 29 and scheduled to close May 10. The class will be initiated May 22.

In order to facilitate the work, the city has been divided into three sections, with the Rev. Father V. A. Tobin in general charge. J. F. McNamara is heading the north section, E. A. Holtz the southern division, and E. G. Christen, the central part of the city.

Encouraging reports are being made as to the progress of the work and it is believed that a large class will be secured.

DESERTION IS CHARGE IN DIVORCE SUIT FILED

Desertion is charged by Charles R. Whitacre against Millie R. Whitacre, in a suit for divorce filed in common pleas court. The couple were married 23 years ago and have reared a family of three children, one of whom is married.

The marriage took place in Kingston, Ohio. Mrs. Whitacre is now 64 and he is 67.

REV. STUEVES IS GIVEN CALL

Invited by Baptists as Successor to Rev. Stiles

The Rev. Warren L. Stueves, pastor of the First Baptist church, Cambridge, Pa., has been offered the pastorate of the First Baptist church, Lima.

A call was extended at a meeting of the congregation, the quarterly business session, Thursday evening. The vote was unanimous. Efforts have been made to ascertain his decision by Sunday.

It is probable Rev. Stueves will accept the call to the Lima church, members say. The Rev. Mr. Stueves has served the Baptist church in Cambridge as pastor for the past five years. He is an unusually fine speaker and is highly recommended.

Rev. Mr. Stueves is married and has four children. He was in Lima and delivered both the Sunday sermons at the First Baptist church on May 1.

If he accepts the call, he will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Rev. Franklin A. Stiles, who assumed the pastorate of the First Baptist church, Middletown, April 1.

Members of the congregation anticipate he will be present at the meeting of the Ohio Baptist convention, to be held at the First Baptist church May 16 to May 19.

WEALTH NEAR, YET FAR AS VISITOR AT AUDITOR OFFICE FONDLES CHECK

What might have gone down in the annals of Lima police records as a daring crime, was narrowly averted in the office of City Auditor Rupert Friday.

There is something that might interest you," said the Auditor, handing a visitor a check for $24,763.68. The visitor, gazing widely about for a means of escape, saw that all avenues were closed and relaxed in his chair. Wealth was near yet far.

The check was drawn in favor of Ora Green & Co., in payment of first estimate on the E. North-st. bridge. The total cost of the structure will be $98,504.

FORD TIPS, WILD CHASE BEGINS

Driver Responsible for Wreck on Road is Overhauled

When a Ford car with its occupants en route from Detroit to Lima, was overturned by another car three miles east of the city Thursday, they crawled from the wreck, entered a passing automobile and gave chase, capturing J. K. Haubert, a Gibson oilman and two companions, who had failed to aid them after the accident.

Treffer Stevens, 437 Seldon-st., Detroit, accompanied by Joseph Varney and Grace Varney, his wife, also of Detroit were riding in the Ford. The big limousine, driven by Haubert, came up from the rear, hit them, breaking the steering gear of the car and upsetting them in the ditch.

The three occupants managed to crawl from under, just as J. C. Dawson, Henderson, Ky., drove up. Varney remained with the wreck, but Steven and Mrs. Varney climbed in with Dawson. Flying over the road at a 65 mile clip, Dawson cut down the distance, but the limousine would have escaped had not a freight train stopped it near the east limits of Lima.

Haubert and his companions were taken to the police station, and later sent with an officer to Justice Botkins court. Stevens agreed to drop the case, if Haubert would pay the costs. Suit may be filed, however, by Joseph Varney.

LIMA-KENTON ROAD WORK INCLUDED IN $3,000,000 IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

Bids on almost $3,000,000 worth of road construction were opened by the Ohio state highway department at the third big road letting of the year in Columbus Friday.

The new construction will cover between 84 and 85 miles of road in 12 different counties and contemplate 25 separate paving projects.

Included in the list is two and one-half miles of the Lima-Kenton road in Hardin-co. The improvement is a continuation of the Lima-Kenton-road in Allen-co. and is to be made in the adjoining county.

J. B. Robinson Was Delighted At Improvement Syrola Gave Daughter

"Is it any wonder that I'm so grateful toward Syrola, when it cleared up my digestion so quickly?" Mrs. Beattie Johnson, Matron of the Lima Y. M. C. A., 115 W. Eureka-st., made this query recently in an interview with the Syrola Man.

"Until a friend recommended Syrola and I experienced its healing benefits I was a chronic sufferer from indigestion which kept me in a run-down condition. Distress in the stomach and bloating headaches followed by meals, and spots would flash before my eyes when I stooped. At times I'd become so dizzy that I was wobbly on my feet. Pain in the back and a coated tongue were other symptoms which I noticed."

"Syrola seemed to go right to the root of my trouble, and I felt a great deal better after a few doses. My food seems to digest as it should nowadays, and the old distress is banished. I am free from dizziness and those torturing pains in my back; in fact I feel better in every way, thanks to Syrola."

Syrola, the great new herbal medicine which is helping so many total people back to health and happiness, is being explained by a special laboratory representative at the Public Drug Store, 142 N. Main-st. It may be obtained also at Thompson's and the Interurban Drug Store. Syrola is distributed by S. E. Lewis, Columbus Grove; Yates Drug Co., Ada; J. H. Enslin, Elida; J. H. Wahmhoff, Delphos; H. C. Richardson, Spencer; Rhines Drug Store, Wapakoneta and J. H. Gander, Waynesfield.—Adv.

LENLEY MAKES A BIG WINNING

Says Syrola Conquered His Indigestion; Can Eat Heartily Now

"The biggest winning a man can make is to win back his health after it has left him. This good fortune came to M. A. Lenley, 433 N. High-st., Huntington, who said recently: "I cannot say how grateful I am for Syrola, but I do know that everyone I see who is suffering as I did will be told how that medicine helped me. My digestion is as sound as a dollar today and I eat as heartily as a laborer, whereas not so long ago I used to suffer tortures after every meal."

"Food would ferment on my stomach, filling me with gas and causing terrible pains. Even at night these pains wouldn't leave me and so I lost a lot of sleep. I tried almost everything for my trouble, but Syrola is the only medicine that did me any good. Anyone who has stomach trouble should take Syrola."

BUCKEYE FARMERS ON THEIR TOES

Contributed 67 Cars of Corn to Needy in Europe

COLUMBUS — Ohio contributed 67 cars, in the American Farm Bureau Federation gift corn project, according to a bulletin of the Ohio Farm Bureau. Four hundred and thirty-one carloads of shelled corn, the total gathered in the country, has started on its way to feed the hunger-stricken areas of Europe and the Near East. The finished product of a dollar's worth of the gift corn has a monetary value of $12 in Europe, says the bulletin. The American Farm Bureau Federation hasn't any official organ, and farmers are urged to be on the alert for solicitors representing certain magazines, who say they are official organs of the Federation, says the Ohio Bureau. Membership campaigns have been completed in the following counties for the Ohio Bureau: Butler County finished with a membership of 1244; Warren County with a membership of 1276, and Jackson County with 519 members. Richland County is holding a series of meetings to add many members to the 1107 already signed up. Columbiana County will begin a series of meetings May 3, to complete township organizations. The membership in Columbiana County to date is 1330. Lucas County also will start soon to canvass members in parts of the county, which were not covered during the campaign. Lawrence and Logan Counties are in the midst of membership campaigns for the Ohio Bureau. Logan County has 915 members so far. Farmers are urged to watch machinery prices by the Ohio Bureau. "Reports coming to the Federation offices indicate that retail implement dealers are reluctant to pass on to the farmer the recent price reductions made by most of the implement manufacturers," says a bulletin.

MRS. STILLMAN TO HIT BACK

Prepares Counter-Attack in Husband's Divorce Suit

WILL ANSWER ON MAY 29

Sensational Developments in Case Summed Up

NEW YORK — (By Paul A. Press) — Mrs. James A. Stillman, for the first time was looking on the defense side today.

Stillman, maintaining a brave front, conferred with her lawyers hurriedly in the morning to prepare for the sensational attack launched by attorneys for Stillman, former President of the National A. B. C. Store, yesterday's session of the hearing.

Mrs. Stillman has from today until May 29 to prepare her counter-attack.

Stillman's legal wife was busy today preparing her surprise to be used when the hearing is resumed before Judge Gleason, on this date.

Latest developments in this fight were:

Testimony of Dr. Hugh Ross, Buffalo, N. Y., that Mr. Stillman had told him in March 1931 that he had been the father of a child, was the father of her baby, then unborn.

In his deposition, Dr. Ross stated that he was called to examine the alleged child, known as "Baby," in February 1931, and to have contained the following statement:

"I hope you get the little piece with the beaded hind leg and two pair of baby's hands and a pin for baby. I hope you fit all right. I sent the pin of needles yesterday from the baby's hands, by registered mail."

"I hope you will have got them by the time you get this letter and I know what you think of the baby. I think that I had written on the skin a few lines, of course, the living child is now, but the baby should wear the living thing, it would show."

"I looked around in Montreal for a job. You know the kind you would like for baby—and the only thing that was made out of goat skin was not quite white, so that it was not good enough for the baby, so I did not take it."

"It's just been perfect. I've never seen so nice weather in my life for winter up here. The sun gets very strong about 11; I can't explain it to you, dear—how nice it is to feel the sun shining down on me."

"I can tell you, dearest. I am going to bury and get things going right again, so I can come to you and baby soon, dear."

"I never know for understood what it felt like to be a father or mother before, but now I know, I understand it all, and you bet I am coming soon again to take care of my dear baby and baby."

"Everything will seem slow until I have you both again, darling. I just love to have the baby in my arms and to feel and look after her, the fruit of heaven and earth and on darling, how cold it is now to be alone at night."

"Good night, dear heart, and kiss baby good night for me. The first thing you will see me there some morning after baby."

"Tell me how you are planning to live in the country so I will know where to make straight for."

"Goodnight, dear heart, I love you, dearest. I love you both, goodnight. And I will soon be again. Kiss me a big hug and kiss for you, dear."

"With lots of love to you both. The signed letter was signed 'Jim' and addressed to 'My Dear Baby'."

It is understood it will be distributed by the defense as a forgery.

The defense also charged strongly in the testimony of Dr. Ross regarding the conversation with Mrs. Stillman on the grounds it was privileged.

Dr. Ross is expected to take the stand again when the hearing is resumed.

ZANESVILLE — The state executive committee of the Ohio State Bar Association has decided to hold its next annual session at Cincinnati from May 13 to 15.

Clerk of Auglaize-co Election Board—Wapakoneta News

WAPAKONETA — (Special) — Oscar W. Langhorst was selected as clerk of the board of elections. He is a Democrat. Other members are E. Benjamin Yale, John R. Bennett, O. J. Boesel and Lea Jacobs. The board granted a petition to divide St. Marys ward A into two precincts.

William Kretzer and J. H. Meyer bought 10 acres of land southeast of the city which they will plat and use for building homes for factory workmen. They will lay out a street adjacent to the property and thru it.

A Cadillac touring car found on the Dixie Highway by Norval Gowdy, rural mail carrier, last week, was claimed by Joseph Herxstan, manager of the Delco light company, Dayton. Machine was stolen.

Another distribution of auto. tax money has been received by County Auditor Fisher. It totals $3,207.40.

Personal tax returns, filed with Auditor C. E. Fisher up to May 1 totalled 6,539. In the same period last year they numbered 6,720. Assessors will comb their localities for taxable property still unchecked.

Council adopted a resolution to construct a one mile extension of the intercepting sewer that carries most of the city's sewage to the Auglaize river west of town.

Property owners are circulating petition for paving of Wood-st, thru-out its length. One block of it will be a connecting link of the Dixie Highway and the city will receive county and township aid in its construction.

Entire corps of teachers in local public schools with exception of Miss Vera Viscadapoli, grade teacher, re-employment for the 1921-22 term by the board of education.

EAST LIVERPOOL—Franklin P. Edger, president of the Ohio Teachers' Association was re-elected superintendent of the local public schools.

DEMOCRATS PLAN TO FORCE ACTION

Will Demand Reorganization Referendum Thru Courts

PUT IN HANDS OF HOGAN

Committees Decide on Circulation of Petitions

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Plans of the fight of Ohio Democrats against the reorganization bill, passed as an emergency measure by the general assembly, were being worked out today by former Attorney General Hogan.

Decision to bring about a referendum, if possible, on the bill, was made yesterday at a meeting of the Democratic state executive committee.

Attorney Hogan plans first to present to Attorney General Price a synopsis of the bill to be used on referendum petitions. In case Price refuses to approve the synopsis on the grounds that a referendum is impossible, mandamus proceedings will be brought to compel him to do so. It was stated.

After sufficient signatures have been secured, should Secretary of State Smith refuse to receive the petitions, mandamus proceedings will be brought against him to compel him to accept them and place the issue upon the ballot at next fall's election.

COMMITTEE ACTION
The committee yesterday voted to institute a referendum on the reorganization bill for reorganization of state departments, recently enacted by the legislature as an emergency measure. The vote was unanimous.

Petitions asking for the referendum are to be put into circulation at once by the state organization, aided by as many republicans as they can get to join the movement. Chairman W. W. Burdick, of the executive committee said that many influential republicans have expressed their willingness to join in bringing the reorganization bill to a referendum. Petitions bearing more than 120,000 signatures must be obtained.

The question as to whether the bill, passed as an emergency, is in fact an emergency in the meaning of the state constitution must be determined by the supreme court before a referendum can be had, this fact will not keep the democrats from trying to obtain the necessary signatures. Should the supreme court hold that the measure is not an emergency, petitions will be ready to file with the secretary of state, asking that the measure be referred to the voters at the November election.

In a few days counsel for the democrats will present a synopsis of the bill which is to go on the referendum petitions, to General Price for his approval. In case he refuses to approve the synopsis, a suit in mandamus to compel him to approve it then will be filed in the supreme court. Should the attorney general

ANOTHER REPORT PROVING STERLING MERITS OF DRECO

This Chillicothe man declares he is feeling great. Has good appetite, sleeps sound, no constipation or backache, and stomach in good order.

"I am feeling simply fine and think Dreco the greatest medicine in the world. I have reasons to feel this way because it did me so much good," said Mr. Frank McCurdy of 138 East Walter Street, Chillicothe, Ohio.

"I haven't been bothered by constipation nor sluggish liver since I got rid of it, the backache is a thing of the past. I have a good appetite, feel strong and well but the best part is that my stomach never troubles me. I am perfectly free from annoying gas and belching which used to trouble me so much. Dreco sure did lots of good, and the good staid with me. That's what I call real merit."

Dreco is composed of the juices and extracts of many different roots, herbs, barks and leaves, which act on the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels and purify the blood. It relieves constipation, prevents gas forming in the stomach, increases the appetite, banishes catarrh of the head and takes the pain out of rheumatic joints.

Dreco is being specially introduced by Baldwin's Drug Store in Lima, corner Main and Highways and sold by all druggists.—Adv.

JUMP IN THE TONNEAU WITH ME—LET'S GO

FELLOW LIMAITES, MEN AND WOMEN:
You know like all other readers of The Lima News that we have been passing thru the period of deflation as the result of the war and its cyclone of paper money and debts. But do you realize as do I, that the so-called period of depression is over; or, so nearly over, that it can be safely discounted? It is because I do realize this that I am asking you to jump in the tonneau with me—let's go.

The world has shaken itself free; we are at peace with the universe; we have more money than any country ever expected to possess; we have piles and piles of gold, in bars, in coins, in bullion; we have a banking system working like a thermostat; we have living costs down 70 percent over those of a year ago; we have building costs reduced a good 30 percent; we have merchandise almost at pre-war levels; think of a $25 suit of clothes and a $4 pair of shoes! Why the gloom, the pessimism, the shaking of the head that may be found when bankers gather or small manufacturers confer? Nothing but mere reflections that were apropos six months ago but are passe now.

The railroad problem alone is yet to be adjusted, and every day is seeing it adjusted. There is little, in fact, yet to adjust, save the pay of unskilled labor and putting the shop systems back on their merits, instead of trying to operate under McAdooism which was never good, sound business for either men or employers. All that the railroads now need is tonnage, volume as it were; just as the merchant, the grocer and the farmer needs volume. The railroads are slowly getting volume and as it increases and McAdooism is wiped out, rates will come down automatically.

So jump in the tonneau and ride with me. Lima is the best 60,000 city in the world. Yes, note I say 60,000! For we are not cut off on one side by a lake or an ocean, on another side by sand dunes or mountains. Lima is not the city limits, but Lima includes Delphos, Wapak-oneta and St. Marys, with their 18,000 population, and Bluffton, Spencerville, Ada, Columbus Grove, Ottawa, Grideraville, Harrod, Middlepoint; even Botkins, Celina, Van Wert, McGuffey. All of them are much nearer the public square of Lima than New York, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland residents of the suburbs are to their public squares.

Lima is making 4,000,000 cigars every week; a locomotive every day; tons of candy; barrels of gasoline, kerosene, wax, and lubricating oils; undergrounds going eastward transfer thousands of barrels of crude oil every week, and employees here in the field and in the offices are part of Lima, exchanging their pay-checks for food, shelter and clothing. And there are steel mills, and motor truck factories, brass foundries and machine works; railroad terminals and their repair shops, while everywhere east and west, north and south, new homes, small business blocks and sales rooms are building, building building!

Lima has approximately 12,000 heads of families, and 12,000 homes—mansions, cottages, dwellings, apartments, flats. Of the 12,000 heads of families, with their 18,000 wage earners, for everybody works in Lima, not five percent of them have ever been out of work at one time during our entire deflation period. Our bank clearings yesterday were higher than they were a year ago. That means buying power. So why not jump in the tonneau and ride with me?

And note—I have tipped you off. We are well on the way. The time to buy a home or invest in a piece of unimproved real estate or buy an income producing business block or flat or apartment house, is now, NOW, before the owner realizes himself that the war is over; that the United States has hordes of gold; that the railroad problem needs mere compilation of the operating statement for April; that money is going to be easier and cheaper; that we are actually pressing the starter and you have but just time to jump in the tonneau with me.

To City Council

BOYS: I understand another attempt is to be made to repair Main-st. Fine! There's nothing in the world that needs repairing worse than does that disreputable thoroughfare. It has become a joke not only in my city, but in the entire district. It gives my city a black eye to every visitor who comes this way.

An effort was made to get the work started several months ago but the "interests" threw a wrench in the gears. It doesn't seem just right that one or two men should be able to block such an important project, but they did. Now that you're to make another start, try to forestall those who would block anything if their own selfish interests could be benefited.

To Chamber of Commerce

DEAR BOYS: Thank you so much for bringing Arthur Nash, golden rule clothing manufacturer of Cincinnati, to my city Thursday night for an address at my Memorial Hall. I have always been interested in the principle of the golden rule and the method of its application as outlined by Nash is a revelation to me.

The Nash plan is a commendable one and I feel that it ought to be adopted generally by employers. There is a great deal more to the golden rule than a mere formation of meaningless words, as all too many persons take it.

FRIENDS: The Department of Auditor, City of Lima, informs me that, owing to neglect and failure on your part to pay $18,000 pledged in aid of the Elm-st bridge, that the payment of an estimate of $10,000 to the contractor is being held up.

I sincerely trust that this new snag will not hold up the progress of the work on the structure and that it will be completed quickly. The Elm-st bridge has met up with so many vexatious vicissitudes that those who have patiently waited so long for its completion have almost learned to expect the worst to happen at most any time in bringing about further delay. I trust that in this instance they will be agreeably disappointed and that the $18,000 will be provided quickly.

MY FRIENDS: A call has been sent out by my two public hospitals for new books for their libraries. Books of a lighter nature, fiction, are needed for the patients there. You are asked to do your part in building up a library at St. Rita's, where there is none, and replenishing that at City hospital, where the books are old. I hope you will not fall down on the job.

My hospitals are observing National Hospital Day next Thursday. This event is for the public in order that it may become acquainted with the work these institutions are doing. Make arrangements to visit my two hospitals on that day. It will be worth your time to see the wonderful work they are doing.

MY FRIENDS: You have my assurance that I never had a more enjoyable time in my life than was my experience on the different occasions I visited the Elks' Home this week, to take in the "doin's" in connection with the May Festival or Carnival event.

I noticed too that everyone else present was getting the same good measure of enjoyment out of the affair that was my pleasure. I have always been proud of my Elk lodge and since you have demonstrated that you have the knack of providing entertainment in such an exceptionally splendid manner in connection with the Carnival, I'm stronger for you than ever.

Here's hoping that you'll do it again next year and I'm genuinely sorry that the week of entertainment comes to a close to-morrow.

By William Brady, M. D.

VITAMINS AND FOOD FALLACIES
Scurvy is a mystery to the laity because the fully developed disease is not commonly seen in this country, the mild forms of scurvy are perhaps more common than people in general are aware. The fully developed disease, in infants or adults, is characterized by bleeding from the gums, sore swollen gums, foul breath, bleeding beneath the skin or mucous membranes from slight or no local cause (discolorations of the "black and blue" kind, sometimes wrongly ascribed to blows or abuse), pale complexion, a painful gait or pains in the legs (sometimes mistaken for "rheumatism" or "paralysis"). But this full-fledged scurvy is not the ordinary every-day scurvy, which is too easily overlooked or unrecognized. The more common form is not so clearly manifested; there is lack of physical and mental vigor, vague pains usually lightly ascribed to "rheumatism" (although there is no such disease or condition as "rheumatism"), lack of appetite, insomnia, a noticeably pale or muddy complexion and stationary weight and fretful disposition. The scorbutic nature of this condition in infants has been proved in innumerable cases by the prompt improvement and recovery of such infants after some anti-scorbutic substances have been added to the diet, such as orange juice, tomato juice, fresh cooked vegetable pulp strained thru a sieve, or pure fresh raw milk.

It is a fallacy to assume that foods which contain vitamins when fresh lose their vitamins in the process of canning. Many canned foods are innocent of vitamins, but canned foods of an acid nature, such as pineapple, tomato, rhubarb and berries, may retain most or all of their vitamins for many months.

Pasteurization more completely destroys the vitamins of fresh milk than does boiling for a few minutes. Because the twenty minutes or thirty minutes of heating at 145 F. induces some change which saves minutes or less of heating at 212 F. does not produce—it has been found that such short boiling does not impair the anti-scorbutic value of fresh milk, whereas pasteurization does.

Dried or powdered milk, prepared by subjecting the milk to a temperature of 230 F. for a few seconds, has been found to retain much of its anti-scorbutic value. Dr. Hess found anti-scorbutic vitamin was retained even by sweetened condensed milk when the milk was sealously protected from the air in the course of the condensing process, and he suggests that oxidation by the air accounts for the loss of vitamins in various cooking and canning processes.

He cites the reports of Varot and other good observers who have insisted that sterilized milk does not cause scurvy—the milk was sterilized in hermetically sealed bottles, thus preventing oxidation by the air.

Home canning processes commonly do not exclude the oxidation factor; nor do all factory canning processes.

KEATON IN "HARD LUCK" IS RARE COMEDY

"The Lamplighter" is interesting Photo Drama; See It At The Sigma

Lyric Presents "When We Were Twenty-One, Thrilling and Pleading

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)

IT'S a timeworn fancy—that one about making a hole so deep it goes thru to China. Columbus, perhaps, paused in his demonstration of the egg trick to explain the joke on Queen Isabella. But the movies can present a comic idea better than it can be done in print, in drawings or on the stage—whatever may be the movie limitations in other directions. The China notion takes on a new interest in Buster Keaton's "Hard Luck."

Keaton, in an elegant garden with a swimming pool, mounts a high diving board, and dives off.

He misses the pool and makes a deep hole in the pavement where he hits. Others crowd about and look down. No sign of Keaton.

"Years later," the pool is dry, the garden in ruins. Out of the hole comes Keaton. He is dressed as a Chinaman, and is accompanied by a Chinese wife and an array of Chinese children. He has come back from China.

One sees him pointing out the springboard, telling his wife how he came to leave the United States.

There the comedy ends. An extraordinarily funny piece—it appears here soon.

"The Lamp Lighter"

There is so much of the unusual and unexpected in the story of "The Lamplighter," now being shown at the Sigma Theatre, that it seems as though William Fox, its producer, started out, in this particular film play, with a purpose to break away from all the familiar devices of screened narrative. The work is consequently one of the most refreshing, while one of the strongest, film stories it has been our good fortune to witness. And Shirley Mason, its dainty star, is to be congratulated on having found so splendid a vehicle for her talents.

The story is the creation of Maria Susanna Cummins.

Many who have seen "The Lamplighter," declare it is one of the most beautiful and worth while pictures they ever witnessed. In it Miss Mason—than whom there is no more delightful young person entrusted with roles on the screen—is afforded a part that runs the entire gamut of human emotion.

Raymond McKee and Philo McCullough handle the masculine roles to advantage. Be sure and see "The Lamplighter" and see an interesting photo-drama.

"When We Were Twenty-One"

NAT Goodwin's famous success, "When We Were Twenty-One," offers a splendid photo-play material and a perfect role for that polished and accomplished actor, H. B. Warner. Presented for the first time on Thursday at the Lyric Theatre, it amused the audience, of which I was one; thrilled them, gave them a warm glow of sentiment and entirely pleased and interested. So much for the effects.

Warner has the role of Dick Carrawe, whose ambition is to show his ward, the "Imp," married to Phyllis, who doesn't exactly love him but will marry him if it pleases the Imp's guardian, whom she secretly loves.

The Imp falls for an experienced siren, who is naturally after his money only and his guardian prepares to sacrifice himself to save the boy, but the boy marries her before anyone can save him from the terrible fate in store for him. (Sounds like melodrama, doesn't it?)

Well, the knowledge that his wife does not love him comes at length, and dark despair envelopes the hitherto happy Imp, but his guardian finds love and happiness at the hands of the girl who had been willing to sacrifice her life to please him.

"When We Were Twenty-One" boasts some good photography and direction. It's supporting cast is excellent, comprising as it does Claire Anderson in the role of Phyllis, which role was originally created by Maxine Elliott; Christine Mayo is sufficiently hard-looking and rapid to appear to advantage as the vampire, Jimmy Morrison as the boy who couldn't learn until too late, is pleasing. Minor roles are also well taken.

If by any chance you see "When We Were Twenty-One" you'll see some good acting on the part of H. B. Warner, whether you like the story or not.

Ed Wynn Carnival

"I" is surely a very agreeable and pleasant change to play one part for two entire years, as I am now doing with Ed Wynn in the Ed Wynn Carnival," said Lillian Fitzgerald. "My long experience in vaudeville has, however, fitted me for almost any part within my sphere. Each play means a different character and I try to show my interpretation of each with my voice."

"When I was a little girl I had a desire to know what could be done with the voice, and I used to read aloud by the hour. I hunted up books on elocution and practiced different expressions—love, hate, sorrow, sympathy, satisfaction and the like—and I found that I could do almost anything I liked with my voice. And now I still do all my parts aloud; it helps me to know and love each character and rounds out my speaking voice. A low, soft voice is the most attractive thing in the world, and not only for the actress but for the woman everywhere. To locate the trouble with your voice, read a few stanzas of poetry out loud and you will soon discover what is wrong; then it is a simple matter to correct the faults. A simple tone exercise, running up and down the keys of the piano at the same time helps a great deal, and remember to draw up your tones as you do your long breaths when you take breathing exercises.

"Breathing exercises are splendid. Take long, deep breaths—twenty or thirty of them at a time—and speak your sentences slowly, with a short wait between each word. The next thing will give you confidence and a fuller volume in a very short time. The next thing is the pronunciation. As Hamlet says to the players: 'Pronounce your words trippingly on the tongue.' This requires no special practice—simply the mending of slovenly habit. It is just as unattractive with one's speech as it is to be slovenly in appearance.

"Then, when you have mastered these principles, you can begin to shade your voice. This is fun, for the best way is to read poetry, of good, stirring prose. Cry out with the wall of the forest primeval, or the accents wild and disconsolate of the deep-voiced ocean. Play the passionate lover, the carping hypocrite, the despairing degenerate, the triumphant leader of men, pleading cursing, praising, raving—if you will—soon you will develop a characteristic voice, for your individuality will assert itself.

"The Man Who Sings To Beat the Band"

THE KILLER

BY STEWART EDWARD WHITE

A group of about twenty men greeted our appearance with a wild cowboy yell. Some of the men of our outfit were there, others from as far south as the Chiricahuas.

Windy Bill was there with Jed Parker. The other men were all riders—nobody of any particular standing or authority. The sun made it about three o'clock of the afternoon. Artie Brower had made the ranch with out mishap, had told his story, and had promptly fallen asleep. Buck Johnson, in his usual deliberate manner, read all the papers there twice, and then acted with his customary decision. Three men he sent to reconnoiter in the direction of the Bat-eve Tunnel with instructions to report promptly. His other riders he dispatched to all the leading cattlemen as far south as the Chiricahuas Range, as far east as Grant's Pass, as far west as Madrona.

"That's where we faded out," said Jed Parker. "The scouts from up here came back with this little Windy West story about this yere mountain on top of you. They brought back a little proof with them, Mex guns and spurs and such plunder looted off'n the deceased on the field of battle."

"They was only two of them," said Windy Bill, "and we managed to catch one of 'em foul." I broke in. "Shut up, Windy. I broke in. 'Can't you see the young lady?'"

Windy whined, all contrition and apologies. "Don't you mind me, ma'am," he begged. "They call me Windy Bill, and I reckon that's about right. I don't mean nothing."

"I know that. It isn't your talk," interrupted Miss Emory, "but the sun is hot—and haven't you anything at all to eat?"

"Suffering giraffe!" cried Windy, above the chorus of dismay. "Lunk-heads! chumps!" He turned to the dismayed group. "Ain't any one of you boys had sense enough to bring any grub?"

But nobody had. The old-fashioned Arizona cowboy ate only twice a day. It would never occur to him to carry a lunch for noon. Still, they might have considered a rescue party's probable needs.

We mounted and started for the Box Springs ranch. They had at least known enough to bring out extra horses.

"Old Hooper knows the cat is out of the bag now," I suggested as we rode alone.

"He sure does."

"Do you think he'll stick or will he get out?"

"He'll stick."

"Why are you so sure?"

"There are men in the brush all around his ranch to see that he does."

"For heaven's sake how many have you got together?" I cried as we rode on.

"About three hundred," said Jed. "What's the plan?"

"I don't know. They were chewing over it when I left. There's a bunch of 'em on that sweet little list you-all dug up."

It was near 5 o'clock when we pulled down the lane toward the big corals. The latter were full of riding horses and the fences were topped with neatly arranged saddles. Men were everywhere, seated in rows on top rails, gathered in groups, leaning idly against the ranch buildings.

We were discovered and acclaimed with a wild yell that brought everybody running. Immediately we were surrounded.

There awaited us a dozen men herded by Buck Johnson. Here were the substantial men of this part of the territory, a grim, elderly, four-square, unsmiling little band of granite-faced pioneers. Their very appearance carried a conviction of direct, and, if necessary, ruthless action.

They did not waste time in vain congratulations or query. Buck Johnson said something very brief to the effect that he was glad to see us safe.

"If this young lady will come in first," he suggested.

But I was emboldened to speak up.

"This young lady has not had a bite to eat since last night," I interposed.

"Thank you," said he. "Sing," he roared, and then to the Chinaman who showed up in a nervous hover: "Give this lady grub, savvy? If you'll go with him, ma'am, he'll get you up something. Then we'd like to see you."

"I can perfectly well wait," she began.

"I'd rather not, ma'am," said Buck with such grave finality that she merely bowed and followed the cook.

They had no tender feelings about me however. Nobody cared whether I ever ate or not. I was led into the little ranch office and catechized to a fare-ye-well. When I had finished my story it was dusk.

On the heels of my recital came the sound of hoofs in a hurry; and presently loomed in the doorway the gigantic figure of Tom Thorne, the sheriff.

"Buck Johnson here?" asked Thorne in his big voice.

"Here," replied the senior.

"I am told," said Thorne, directly "that there is here an assembly for unlawful purposes. If so, I call on you in the name of the law to keep the peace."

"Tom," rejoined Buck Johnson, "I want you to make me your deputy."

"For what purpose?"

"There is a dispossessed notice to be served hereabouts, a trespasser who must be put off from property that is not his."

"You men are after Hooper, and I know it. Now you can't run your neighbors' quarrels with a gun, no any more. This is a country of law now."

"Tom," repeated Buck in a reasoning tone, "come in and take a look around. There's a lot of your friends here. There's Jim Carson over in the corner, and Donald Macomber, and Marcus Malley, and Dan Watkins."

At this slow telling of the most prominent names in the southwest cattle industry Tom Thorne took a step into the room and lighted a match. There was no doubt that Tom Thorne was never afraid of his duty. But here was Arizona itself gathered for purposes of its own.

"Tom," said Buck Johnson after a moment, "I heard tell of a desperate criminal headed for Grant's Pass, and I figure you can just about catch up with him if you start right now. Only you'd better make me your deputy first."

"Raise your right hand," he commanded, curtly, and administered the oath. "Now I leave it in your hands to preserve the peace," he concluded. "I call you all to witness."

"That's all right, Tom," said Buck, still in his crooning tones, taking the big sheriff by the elbow and gently propelling him toward the door. "Tom's a good sort," he observed, coming back, "but he's young. He don't realize that when things get real serious this sheriff's foolishness just nat'rally bogs down. Now I reckon we'd better talk to the girl."

I made a beeline for the cook house. By the time I had finished, the conference was raised, and men were catching and saddling their mounts. I rushed around and borrowed me a saddle and a horse, and was ready to start with the rest.

We jogged up the road in a rough sort of column, the old timers riding ahead in a group of their own. Conversation was sparse and, low voiced. About half way the leaders summoned me, and I trotted up to join them.

They wanted to know about the situation of the ranch. My recollection made of the place a thoroughly protected fortress, capable of resisting a considerable assault.

"Of course, with this gang we could sail right over them," observed Buck, thoughtfully, "but we'd lose a considerable of men doing it."

"Got to give Old Man Hooper credit for some sense," replied the senior shortly.

"We can starve 'em out," suggested somebody.

"Unless I miss the old man a mile he's already got a messenger headed for the troops at Fort Huachuca," interposed Macomber. "He ain't fool enough to take chances on a local sheriff."

"You're toting he ain't," approved Buck Johnson. "It's got to be quick work."

"Burn him out," said Watkins. "It's the young lady's property," hesitated my boss. "I kind of hate to destroy it unless we have to."

At this moment the Morgan station, which I had not noticed before, was reined back to join our little group. Atop him rode the diminutive form of Artie Brower whom I had thought down and out. He had evidently had his evening's dose of hop and under the excitement of the first effect had joined the party.

He was carrying that precious black bag.

"Blow a hole in his old walls!" he suggested, cheerfully. "That old fort was built against Indians. A man could sneak up in the shadow and get her off. It wouldn't take but a dash of sour to stick a hole you could ride thru a horse-back."

"Soup," echoes Buck.

"Nitroglycerin," explained Watkins who had once been a miner.

"Oh, sure!" agreed Buck sarcastically. "And where'd we get it?"

"I always carry a little with me just for emergencies," asserted Brower, calmly, and patted his black bag.

There was a sudden and unanimous edging away.

"For the love of Pete!" I cried, "Was there some of that stuff in there all the time I've been carrying it around?"

"It's packed good; it can't go off," Artie reassured us. "I know my biz."

"What in God's name do you want such stuff for?" cried Judson.

"Oh, just emergencies," answered Brower, vaguely, but I remembered his uncanny skill in opening the combination of the safe. Possibly that contract between Emory and Hooper had come into his hands thru professional activities. However, that did not matter.

"I can make a drop of soup go farther than other men's plunk," he boasted Artie. "I'll show you; and I'll show that old—"

"You'll probably get shot," observed Buck, watching him closely.

"What 'hell," observed Artie with an airy gesture.

"It's the dope he takes," I told Johnson aside. "It only lasts about so long. Get him going before it dies on him."

"I see Trot right along," Buck commanded.

WOMAN TRAMP IS FULL OF IDEAS

Pretty Miss Selects Box Car as Her Home

HAS A GOOD EDUCATION

Travels Because She Likes It—Gives Story

CANTON — In a scrubby little box car in the Gambrian freight yards of the Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad, three miles south-west of Canton, lives Miss Lucille Waltz, "weightmistress" and disciple of the open road.

She affixed the former after her name last August. It won't remain here long, for she is feeling again the call of vagabondage. The latter title was born with her, "I guess because there are ministers and newspapermen in my ancestry, and they move around a lot."

LIVES IN BOX CAR

Miss Waltz lives in the box car with the family of an official of the yards. The yard "offices" are housed in two box cars on a side switch; Miss Waltz's home is a half mile down the track.

"How would you like to live in a box car, with the railroad yards for your front door and the open fields and woods for your back yard?" I have found it interesting and comfortable," Miss Waltz says.

Miss Waltz is pretty, well educated and in her twenties. Due to the wanderlust, she has been:

A COLLEGE STUDENT

College student, reporter on small town paper, telephone operator at a city exchange, waitress at a summer resort, traveling companion to a woman of means in Chicago, and school teacher.

Six or eight months in one place, and she is ready to move on. "I've stayed here longer than usual," she said, "but I suppose I'll be moving soon."

"Of course my family think it's awful that I am a regular tramp, but why should one not see things while earning a living?"

Pennville, Ind., is Miss Waltz's home town. After graduating from high school, she worked on the only paper there, and was everything from "printer's devil to assistant editor."

TRAINED IN INDIANA

The next fall, she entered the Indiana state university as a freshman. Going to Indianapolis with a college chum at the end of her first year, she took a position in the office of a manufacturing concern.

"My chum had to take a state examination in order to get a license to teach in Indiana, and because she did not want to go alone I went with her. Rather than idle the time away, I, too, took the examination. It happened that I passed and she did not. I had never thought of teaching, but now that I had a license, the idea seemed worth trying, so that winter, I taught at Mladadore, Ind.

"There was a certain appeal about teaching, and at the end of the term, I went to the state normal school at Muncie. When the superintendent of the Akron district came to Muncie in search of teachers, I signed up with him to teach at Ira, near Akron. I always had wanted to come to Ohio.

"At Ira I met the most interesting person I ever had the privilege of knowing. She had been a professor of languages at one of the larger American colleges, and had traveled over most of Europe. She had retired and lived with her sister, a quaint person who might have stepped out of a Dickens novel. They had taken up violet raising.

VISITS HOME REGULARLY

Twice a year, in the spring and fall, Miss Waltz returns home. Last year, she spent six weeks there, owing to the illness of her mother, the longest time she had spent at home since entering college.

Miss Waltz returned to Akron just at the time several of the plants were curtailing their forces. She secured employment as a telephone operator, after tramping the streets for weeks.

It is not because Miss Waltz dislikes a small town that she has taken to roving, she insists. The bigger cities have no especial appeal.

"Chicago is a good place to play in, I think, but I'd never want to play there for long. Cleveland is better. I could work there as well as play there, but just now, my heart is set on Boston. Perhaps I may go to school there, if I like it. Cities and towns have personalities. Just like people, I think: they attract or repel."

ALBANY—John Albert Slesner, editor of Leslie's Weekly and president of the Leslie-Judge company of New York, died here.

12 lbs Cane Sugar $1.00, Piper's.

OBSERVE MOTHERS' DAY AT Y. M. C. A.

"Mother's Day" will be observed at the Y. M. C. A., at 3 p. m. Sunday. A special program is being arranged. Rev. D. N. Kelly, pastor of the Grace M. E. church, will be the principal speaker and has chosen as his subject, "Mother."

Each of those present will be asked to name the favorite songs and hymns of his or her mother.

All young men away from home are urged to be sure and write or send flowers to their mother on or before that day.

Best Cane Sugar $7.75, Piper's.

KIWANIAN MAULED BY ROTES CHAMP'S CAMP NOTABLES TO BALL SEASON TO BE INAUGURATED HERE SUNDAY, MAY 8

In the opening game of the Business Club League Thursday afternoon at the Murphy-st ball park, the Rotary team easily walloped the Kiwanians by the top-sided score of 11 to 5.

The pitching of Don Rohe is contributed largely for the big success of the Rotes. He was a little wild at times, but showed exceptional ability for this early in the season.

His appearance on the field proved quite a surprise for the fans, as well as the Kiwanian players. Last year he pitched several games for the Lima Independents, and gained quite a reputation for himself in local sporting circles.

Sunday Rohe is one of the notable men for Bernie Halloran's semi-prof outfit when they are scheduled to play the Springfield Independents.

At Herrett was the first man to bat. He was given a walk on four straight balls, but was put out at second.

Rohe struck out 13 batters while Stork, pitching for the Kiwanians, had only two to his credit when the final tally was made.

Stork pitched poor ball all through the game, and was given walk up after walk in the out-of.

Fenton and Rohe registered a pair each of two base hits, while Stork, Goodrich and Bernstein are credited with two homers.

Ashton, playing second for the Rotes, is credited with two errors, while Snyder, at short stop, was credited with one.

Al Herrett was high man with a .750 batting average.

He had three placed against him during the game. Goodrich and Fenton had a pair each and Rohe and Phillips were given one each.

Rev. Kirk O'Farrell started the ball rolling for the Rotarians. He was first to bat and was given a walk.

He went to second on Fenton's sacrifice and was brought in home on Jack's double.

Team	AB	R	H	E	A	E

2 ARE SENTENCED
Johnson and Carrina to Serve Time in Penitentiary

Frank Johnson, convicted of burglary and larceny by a jury, was sentenced Friday to the Ohio state penitentiary and to pay costs of prosecution.

Johnson was arrested in connection with theft of property from the W. L. Hunlock grocery, Market-st. and Central-ave. He was taken at the same time James and Chandler Hurlbert were picked up on like charges.

The Hurlberts were indicted on a like charge, but have not yet been tried. Johnson has a family of young children.

Motion for a new trial for James Carrina, indicted for carrying concealed weapons, was overruled and he was sentenced to the penitentiary by Judge Becker.

MUTT AND JEFF—MUTT GOT THE SURPRISE OF HIS LIFE—

BY BUD FISHER

SHORT SHAVINGS

He was an enthusiastic Scotchman and he was discussing with an English friend the merits of their respective countries. Military pro-ess, brilliance in invention, engineering, travel and empire building had all been passed in review and the Scot had won hands down. Eventually the Englishman sought refuge in literature.

"Well, the 'old literature,'" interrupted the Scot, "there's Robbie Burns, Walter Scott, Stevenson, Hugh Miller, Barrie—that's just mentioning a few at random—a Scot!"

"Yes, yes, but wait a bit," protested the Englishman. "There is one greater than all these put together—William Shakespeare. You wouldn't suggest that he was a Scotsman, would you?"

"Well," thoughtfully responded the Scot, "I wadna precisely dae that. But the mon's intelligence wad almost warrant the inference!"

An enterprising cigar store man sent a doctor a box of cigars which had not been ordered, with a bill for $30. The accompanying letter stated that "I have ventured to send these on my own initiative, being convinced that you will appreciate their exquisite flavor."

In due course the doctor replied: "You have not asked me for a consultation, but I venture to send you three prescriptions, being convinced that you will derive therefrom as much benefit as I shall derive from your cigars. As my charge for a prescription is $10, this makes us quits."

"GOLDEN RULE NASH" HEARD IN STORY OF HIS LIFE AND PLAN

"Labor troubles will cease forever when the time comes that business is so conducted that a corporation head is as close to a bereaved worker's family as is the pastor of his church."

An audience that comfortably filled Memorial Hall Thursday night roundly applauded this declaration made by Arthur Nash, speaking on the application of the Golden Rule to industry.

Nash prefaced his usual lecture with an account of his early history, including the years of his life passed at Bluffton as pastor of a church.

A chain of circumstances led him into the tailoring business and in 1918 he acquired a sweatshop in Cincinnati.

He asked the workers in the place to work for him, as they would expect him to work for them, were they in his place. At the same time he increased wages to levels that he considered just. At that time he believed that he was cutting his own throat, but was determined to pay living wages, tho it bankrupt him.

C. A. orchestra, and a short concert. Believing that Nash meant what he said, workers tripled their output and the plant made money.

The Cincinnati man spoke here under the auspices of the Forum committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Music was furnished by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra, and a short concert. Believing that Nash meant what he said, workers tripled their output and the plant made money.
